White Water Rafting commences in Goa!

- New video film service for guests engaging in rafting activity at a charge
- New changing room facility

Panjim, July 4: The time to feel like you are at the Amazonas is finally here! White Water Rafting, the best monsoon activity in Goa, that draws thousands of water sports enthusiasts and tourists to Goa has commenced.

With the monsoons in full gusto, the activity promises pure fun for the whole family on river Mhadei even if one does not know swimming. A raft, the rapids and the stunning forested wilderness of the Mhadei Wildlife Sanctuary is a perfect monsoon getaway.

Mr. Nilesh Cabral, Chairman of Goa Tourism Development Corporation (GTDC) said, "White Water Rafting is a water sport adventure activity that has become very popular during the monsoons. Both tourists and local Goans have been availing of this facility during the last three years and we are confident that the 2016 edition will also get an overwhelming response."

The river rafting facility will be available from July to October 2016 subject to availability of rapids and adequate water currents, and suitable weather conditions. There will be two trips beginning at 9.30 am and 2.30 pm every day. The rafting activity is open to both adults and children above 12 years. Read more>>
